SYNOPSIS:	Hayat is an ambitious young woman, who is living with her two friends in Istanbul. She struggles to earn a living in Istanbul because of not receiving a positive outcome from her job applications. In contrast to Hayat, her mother wants Hayat to move back to their hometown Giresun. In order to succeed in her dream of living in Istanbul, Hayat convinces her mother to stay in the city for one more day and find a proper job. On the other hand, Murat is a privileged man, who is the heir to his family company of Sarsılmaz Holding. He has been running their textile business successfully by himself. On her way to the job interview at the textile company of Sarsılmaz family, Hayat runs into Murat, and they start to argue from the very first moment. To be accepted for the position, Hayat pretends to be another girl named Suna, who has a personal connection with the boss. After that moment, Hayat starts working as a manager assistant to Murat. Hayat is a very honorable person that cares for justice and fairness. Therefore, Hayat's personality attracts Murat's attention and the two of them start falling in love with each other. Meanwhile, Didem, who also works for the same company, becomes jealous of Hayat. Hayat tries to figure out life while managing two lives at the same time. In order to find happiness, she has to overcome her trust issues to be with the man she loves.
