SYNOPSIS:	Nihan is a young artist, who comes from an affluent family. She often feels distant from the high-standard values of her environment. In contrast to her, Kemal is the son of a middle-income family, whose only dream is to make a living and survive in this world. One day, Nihan and Kemal fall in love with each other despite the vast difference between their socio-economical status. However, Emir does not allow this love as he is obsessively in love with Nihan. When Nihan's brother commits a crime, she agrees to marry Emir in exchange for covering up the crime Nihan's. Due to promising herself to cooperate with her twin brother, Nihan rejects Kemal's marriage offer and lies to him saying that she is worried to marry a poor man. In order to get over his heartbreak, Kemal moves to Zonguldak and starts working as a mining engineer. After surviving a mine collapse, Kemal decides to take what he wants in life and returns to Istanbul five years later. At the wedding anniversary of Nihan and Emir, Nihan feels like she sees a ghost as Kemal arrives at the party. Kemal introduces himself as the new project partner of Emir's company and lets Nihan know that he is back in her life. However, Kemal is not the same man that Nihan used to know. Now, he is a wealthy and powerful man, who is able to compete with the status of Emir. He is dedicated to winning Nihan's love again. The immediate attraction between Kemal and Nihan is noticeable right when the two see each other after five years. After learning about the past relationship between his wife and Kemal, Emir gets jealous and starts making plans to destroy Kemal's life through his family. Along the way, Nihan and Kemal are forced to make sacrifices for their love. In fact, Nihan must endure the biggest challenges of her life when she has to choose between her own daughter and the love of her life.
