| SYNOPSIS:             | Hülya is a young woman from a poor family who dreams of marrying a wealthy man. While she wrestles with her family's dire financial situation and her mother's grave illness, her relationship with Kerim, her childhood sweetheart, introduces significant changes to her family's life. The plot thickens when Kerim's father, Bayram, offers money to Hülya's family, only to have it declined. Bayram's subsequent proposal to arrange an engagement between Kerim and Hülya's older sister, coupled with Hülya's vehement reaction, sets off a cascade of events. Years later, when Kerim's family returns to the village and he proposes to Hülya's sister, Hülya begins devising schemes to seduce her sister's fiancé. Yet, these plots backfire, leading to her sister's tarnished reputation and the death of their father from a heart attack. As the series unfolds, a tangled and demanding relationship emerges between Hülya and Kerim. Bayram, now threatening to sever all financial ties with Kerim unless he marries Hülya, places her in a position to realize her dream. However, this union deeply impacts both Kerim's and Hülya's lives. Additionally, the series delves into Hüseyin and Atif's attempts to assist Filiz, Melek's marriage proposal to Kaya, and Zeynep's antagonism towards Hülya. In the climactic episodes, the narrative centers on Hülya and Kerim's challenges in navigating Kerim's past relationship with his ex-lover Aysin, Zeynep's intricate machinations, and Cem's threats against Mahir. These developments not only enhance the story's intricacy but also strengthen the links between the characters' historical traumas and their contemporary challenges. |
