SYNOPSIS:	Doctor Barış Güvener starts to work in Hisarönü Hospital, where his sister died when she was a little girl. Therefore, he aspires to rebuild the hospital's reputation and improve its health care. In order to succeed, he has to convince other doctors to stay and work harder for this single goal. However, Dr Barış starts facing difficulties as he realizes that the hospital is more dysfunctional than he expected. The first day at the hospital becomes chaotic when six ambassadors get affected by the carbon monoxide leakage during the Turkish Republics Congress and the press turns its focus onto the hospital. On the other hand, two Syrian siblings seek medical care because of a spreadable illness, which causes a threat to the hospital environment as one of them is quarantined. As Dr Barış starts experiencing medical issues himself, he has to confront the fact that he is a cancer patient and must take better care of his health. In order to establish a change at the hospital, Dr Barış must convince Dr Suzan to assist him in motivating other doctors as she is a respected surgeon at the hospital. After learning that his wife is pregnant, Dr Barış finds himself in a position where he must make a serious decision. Meanwhile, the opening of the penitentiary unit at the hospital turns out to be a big concern for all the doctors. While trying to balance the management of the hospital, Dr Barış tries to take care of his pregnant wife, get his cancer treatment, and help other patients in getting better.
