SYNOPSIS:	Celal and Cengiz come from a wealthy family, who run the family business in Malatya. Celal encourages Cengiz to adopt modern farming techniques to elevate their business, but Cengiz has hesitations. After moving to Istanbul, Celal marries Nefin and they have a daughter named İpek. Cengiz’s business starts financially suffering after his business partnership with Sedat. Meanwhile, Celal builds a new company in Istanbul and attracts a foreign client. After hearing about the financial struggles of his brother, Celal offers Cengiz a share from his company and Cengiz moves to Istanbul with his wife Maliha and his son Halil. İpek loses her parents in a terrible car accident while she is still a baby. Meliha decides to raise her niece as her own daughter. Therefore, İpek starts living with her aunt and cousin at the Kazan mansion. İpek meets a boy named Ömer, who works with his father at the mansion. They fall in love with each other and get married. Halil offers a job to Ömer at the family company, where İpek is the heiress. İpek learns that she is pregnant and going to have a daughter with Ömer. However, Ömer gets framed by Halil and goes to prison when he realizes that Halil is defrauding the company. In labour, İpek is told that her daughter was born dead but actually, Halil’s wife Neslihan gave the baby to Kadir to be killed in order to break İpek’s ties with Ömer. Because of not being able to hurt a baby, Kadir and his wife Selma start raising İpek’s daughter Bahar. When Kadir goes bankrupt, Selma does not want to take care of Bahar. Hence, Kadir asks Neslihan to host his wife Selma, Bahar, and Selma’s two daughters at the mansion. At the mansion, Bahar and İpek, mother and daughter who were separated since Bahar’s birth, meet each other and an immediate bond between them forms. In prison, Ömer meets a man named Sedat, who promises to help him during their imprisonment and when they are released. In order to attract Ömer to his side, Sedat discloses that their enemy is the same person, Halil. Ömer gets out of prison and goes to America to receive an education in economy. Eleven years later, Ömer returns to take revenge on İpek and Halil. However, they are not aware of the secrets happening in their lives.
