SYNOPSIS:	Arda, Eren, Metin, and Latif are four university students from different cities, very different cultures, and quite different families. Their paths cross at university, and their stories intertwine in the student house where they will live together. Latif, who grew up in a large family as an "overprotected" child, falls into a deep void when he arrives in Istanbul as the first university student in his family and ends up living alone. His fear of loneliness drives him crazy, and just when he needs help, he meets Arda, Metin, and Eren. Arda has dropped out of medical school to pursue his dream of studying acting, which led him to lose his scholarship. Metin, with his usual clumsiness, messed up his dorm registration and became homeless. Eren, who has always had a strained relationship with his father, has cut ties with his family and left all his wealth behind to start a new life. Together, these four friends will support each other in a student house that's unlike any other, overcoming all the challenges with their friendship.
