Synopsis

“New Generation Family” tells the story of several generations living together in a garden house in Istanbul, exploring the conflicts, value differences, and heartfelt moments that arise from their shared lives. The series humorously portrays the tension between modern parenting approaches and traditional family values. For example, parents inspired by Montessori education, mothers influenced by social media trends, and health-obsessed fathers often clash with the conventional attitudes of the family elders.

Asuman, the family matriarch, tries to keep the peace within the household, while Nazlı, with her modern parenting mindset, constantly shakes up the home’s order. With short and fast-paced episodes designed for mobile viewing, New Generation Family captures the rhythm of the digital age while highlighting the timeless importance of family bonds.

Blending humor and emotion in every episode, the series sincerely reminds viewers that no matter which generation we belong to, family is what unites us all.
